

Jon Carder interprets the dynamics of national and local economics and trends and how these factors impact the real estate industry. He uses this approach to find new, creative ways to better serve our customers. Jon also strives to help investors and employers create high performance work environments that result in higher employee satisfaction, commitment and productivity.

Jonathan T. Carder, LEED AP
President

Professional Experience

Jon joined Melvin Mark as operations manager in 1976, becoming general manager in 1979. Two years later, he founded Melvin Mark Brokerage Company and has served as its president since then. Jon started the Melvin Mark Companies sustainability focus and is a LEED Accredited Professional.

Community Leadership

- Willamette University Board of Trustees member and Alumni Association past president
- Oregon Entrepreneurs Network member
- Portland Angel Network member
- SOLV Founder's Circle member
- Portland Business Alliance past director
- BOMA past president

Education, Awards, Certifications

- Harvard University, MBA
- Tufts University, The Fletcher School of International Law and Diplomacy, MA
- Willamette University, Bachelor of Arts in economics and Russian language